BLACK & GOLD

For the black and gold evening looks, we channel the seductive glamour of classic Hollywood sirens—think Norma Desmond in Sunset Boulevard and Catherine Tramell from Basic Instinct. The mood evokes films like Cult of the Cobra and Lair of the White Worm, where mystery and allure reign supreme. Our heroine is draped in python textures, gilded chains, and Dynasty-level opulence. She's dangerous, divine, and unapologetically in control.

RUBY PONY

Imagine Madame Hollywood trading the red carpet for the savannah — still in stilettos. This group explores a glam safari fantasy, where ponyhair in rich burgundy and electric fuchsia meets authentic zebra hide. A sheer kaftan floats like desert wind, anchored by crystal-encrusted shoulders and decadent fringe. Texture reigns supreme: flocking, pave zebra patterns, and the tactile luxury of pony fabric from the show itself. It's wild elegance with a high-gloss finish.

SNAKE CHARMERS

Think Charlie's Angels reimagined as serpentine seductresses — gliding through chaos with hypnotic grace. These charmers wear iridescent organza harem pants and veils dripping in ABS crystals, catching light like a mirage. Each nail is a golden Orum statement: chunky, sculptural, and unapologetically loud. The master charmer leads with talon-like tips, some adorned with fangs, others dangling pendulums designed to mesmerize. It's espionage meets enchantment — every gesture a spell, every look a lure.

LA VOYANTE

PARADIS

Inspired by Tropiqueta, this group celebrates the lush drama of tropical flora with unapologetic extravagance. David envisions a full hand of elongated stiletto nails that bloom into a bird-of-paradise mid-pose—each finger a petal in motion. Another set channels the fierce beauty of a man-eating Venus flytrap, dripping with resin, texture, and seed beads. It's all about extreme length, layered embellishment, and botanical fantasy. These nails aren't accessories—they're runway showstoppers, alive with movement and menace.
