On Tuesday, May 27th, six teams composed of 18 lady GN members traveled to Nakoma Golf Club in Madison to compete in the WPGA Ladies Pro-Am. Each team of three ladies partnered with GN professionals Charlie, Steve, and Sam, as well as guest PGA pros Jim Gaugert, former GN Assistant Pro Maui Joe Serpico, and Hidden Glen Assistant Pro Gunnar Stapp.

The team that brought home the overall championship in the 26-team field consisted of Jim Gaugert, Barb Roloff, Cindy Butler, and Kathy McKeever, who achieved an impressive score of -15 in the 2 Net Best Ball format, winning by just one shot. Another standout team led by Sam Klobucar, which included Mary Sills, Amy Wann, and Jerri Ryan, finished in a tie for 7th place with a score of -7.

In addition to the team successes, Sally Bunge won a Wilson putter for her Closest to the Pin contest on the 2nd hole. Barb Roloff also earned extra winnings with her Net Eagle “3” skin on the par 5 18th hole.

After the competition, the ladies enjoyed a nice dinner at the club and shared a fun, laughter-filled bus ride back to GN, sharing stories and great times together. We’re already looking forward to the summer ladies Pro-Am in August.
