OHIO OHIO OHIO

RESIDENTIAL INVESTMENT

Northeast Ohio is a great residential area for a variety of reasons, including its affordable cost of living, strong job market, excellent schools, and vibrant communities. According to U.S. Census data, the region has a population of over 4 million people and is home to several large cities, including Cleveland, Akron, Canton, and Youngstown.

One of the key factors that makes Northeast Ohio a great place to live is its affordability. The cost of living in the region is lower than many other major metropolitan areas in the United States, which makes it an attractive option for families, young professionals, and retirees. In addition, the region has a strong job market, with several major employers operating in the area, including Goodyear, Progressive Insurance, and the Cleveland Clinic.

The region also boasts a high quality of life, with excellent schools, parks, and cultural amenities. Many of the communities in Northeast Ohio are home to top-rated school districts, which provide students with a high-quality education. The region is also home to several world-class cultural institutions, including the Cleveland Museum of Art, the Pro Football Hall of Fame and the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.

From a business standpoint, Northeast Ohio is also an attractive destination for companies looking to invest in the area. The region has a highly skilled workforce, a central location, and several economic development initiatives that are designed to attract new businesses and support existing ones. In recent years, there has been significant investment in the area, including the renovation of historic buildings, the development of new commercial and residential spaces, and the expansion of infrastructure projects like highways and public transportation.

These investments are helping to revitalize communities throughout Northeast Ohio and create new opportunities for residents and businesses alike. Overall, Northeast Ohio is a great residential area that offers a high quality of life, a strong job market, and a supportive business environment, making it an excellent place to live, work, and invest.

POPULATION

The population of Northeast Ohio, defined as the region of Ohio that includes the Cleveland metropolitan area and surrounding areas, is estimated to be around 4 million people. This figure includes the residents of cities such as Cleveland, Akron, Canton, Youngstown, and others. Northeast Ohio is the most populous region in the state of Ohio and one of the largest metropolitan areas in the Midwest.

GEOGRAPHY

Cleveland, officially the City of Cleveland, is a major city in the U.S. state of Ohio and the county seat of Cuyahoga County. Located in the Northeastern part of the state, the city is situated along the southern shore of Lake Erie, across the U.S. maritime border with Canada and approximately 60 miles west of the Ohio-Pennsylvania state border. One of the major cities in the Great Lakes region, Cleveland is the largest city on Lake Erie and one of the most populous urban areas in the country.

CLIMATE

The climate of Northeast Ohio is classified as a humid continental climate, which is characterized by warm summers and cold winters. The region is influenced by air masses from both the Great Lakes and the Gulf of Mexico, resulting in a mix of temperature and precipitation patterns throughout the year.

TAXES

Income: Ohio imposes a state income tax on individuals who are residents of Ohio or have Ohio-sourced income. The state income tax rates in Ohio are progressive, meaning they increase as income levels rise.

Earning Taxes: In some cities in Northeast Ohio, such as Cleveland and Akron, there is a local earnings tax of 2.0% on wages, salaries, and other compensation earned by residents.

Property Taxes: Property tax in Ohio is assessed by the local county auditor and is based on the value of the property. In Northeast Ohio, the average effective property tax rate ranges from 1.0% to 2.5% of a property's assessed value.

Sales: The state sales tax rate in Ohio is 5.75%, with additional sales taxes imposed by local governments in some cities, such as Cleveland and Akron. The combined state and local sales tax rate in these cities ranges from 8.0% to 8.5%. It's important to note that tax rates and laws can change periodically, and residents should consult with a tax professional or check the Ohio Department of Taxation website for the most up-to-date information.

GOVERNMENT

The government in Northeast Ohio is primarily composed of local, county, and state levels. The local level includes cities such as Cleveland, Akron, Canton, and Youngstown, which are governed by a mayor and a city council. Each city has its own laws, policies, and services, such as police and fire departments, parks and recreation, and public utilities.

The county level of government in Northeast Ohio includes Cuyahoga, Summit, Stark, Portage, and Mahoning Counties, which provide a range of services, such as the administration of courts, elections, and property taxes.

The state level of government in Ohio is headed by a governor and a legislative branch, which is composed of the Ohio House of Representatives and the Ohio Senate. The state government is responsible for the administration of statewide laws, policies, and services, such as education,
