

Sacha Steel - Salesperson, The Avenue Central Coast Realty - San Luis Obispo

Born and raised in Melbourne, Australia, I realized my lifelong dream of moving to the United States in 2014. This passion to live in the land of Twinkies, hot dogs, and Dr. Pepper was cultivated over many years of being impacted by and loving all things American whilst growing up – the TV, movie stars, music, and so much more.

Fast forward nearly eleven years, and here I am, living on the magnificent Central Coast and experiencing the dream I dreamt of for so long.

With the move also came career evolution – what had been a highly successful career in media and media sales in Australia paved the way for a step in the direction of real estate, something that had always been a passion. It channels my inner voyeuristic tendencies.

I have a wonderful husband who works in the wine industry and three grown kids who are realizing their own life dreams - working hard, traveling often, and making their mum super proud.

I have served on the San Luis Obispo Coastal Association of Realtors® as a Board member since 2022 and have thoroughly enjoyed learning from and collaborating with some incredible minds in the business.
