Behind the scenes at the RHS ^{בס"ד} Chelsea Flower Show

RHS Chelsea Flower Show has been held for more than a century in the grounds of the Royal Hospital Chelsea and attended by over 140,000 visitors each year. It is the pinnacle of garden design.

Katherine Potsides is Head of Shows Development at the RHS. She works closely with horticulturists, designers and growers who bring their plants and creative visions to life at RHS shows and events.

Her talk will provide an insight into the huge efforts that create the gardening extravaganza that is the RHS Chelsea Flower Show, with plenty of pictures and videos from behind the scenes.

To be chaired by Ann Robinson.
