

cell phone contract

I understand that having a cell phone to use is a privilege. I know that this cell phone truly belongs to my parents and that they are graciously allowing me to use it. I respect that my parents love me and want to keep me safe. Since I am maturing and becoming a responsible young adult, my parents respect that and are allowing me to have a cell phone. With that in mind, we agree ::

- I will plug my phone into _____ by _____ on school nights and _____ on weekends, unless otherwise instructed. I will not be reminded of this phone curfew.
- I agree to purchase a durable case to keep my phone free from damage.
- I will always answer my phone when my parents call.

- I will not text or use my phone when at school or doing homework.
- I will give my parents passwords to all accounts.
- I will share my friend's contact information with my parents at any time.
- I will never delete messages, texts, call history, emails, etc.
- I will never use my phone to say, message, text, etc. anything malicious, hateful, or inappropriate. I will only say, message, text, etc. things that I would say in front of my parents.

- I understand that data is not a free service, so I will use wifi when available.
- I will never open pages or view pages that are inappropriate.
- I will report to my parents IMMEDIATELY anything that seems inappropriate. I will also report any unknown / unsolicited messages or phone calls right away.
- I understand that maintaining a _____ grade average at school is required to have access to my phone.
- If I'm asked to turn off / stop using my phone, I will do so immediately with a respectful attitude.

Once again, I understand that a phone is a privilege that I must earn by being responsible and trustworthy. I will follow the terms of this contract at all times.
