

Congresswoman Lisa McClain (MI-10)

Congresswoman Lisa McClain spent more than 30 years in the business world prior to getting elected. She knows how to run a business and supports policies that allow businesses to grow and people to prosper.

A member of the House Armed Services Committee, Congresswoman McClain is a strong supporter of our armed forces and a voice for Michigan's defense assets, including Selfridge Air National Guard Base. On the Armed Services Committee, Congresswoman McClain serves on both the Subcommittee on Military Personnel and Subcommittee on Readiness. Congresswoman McClain also serves on the House Education and Labor Committee, where she serves on both the Higher Education and Workforce Investment Subcommittee and the Civil Rights and Human Services Subcommittee.

Congresswoman McClain has been focusing on preparing the next generation of America's workforce. Congresswoman McClain, along with Congresswoman Chrissy Houlahan, introduced the Promoting Opportunities in Skilled Trades (POST) Act. This bipartisan legislation would allow for existing funds through the Perkins Grant Program to be used to attract, inform, and bolster awareness of skilled trades programs for prospective students and employees.
