

Are you age 25-35 interested in lung health?

Volunteers needed for a research study to study the evolution of lung disease and how young adult's lung function changes over time. One baseline visit to determine eligibility, obtain study data, draw blood, collect nasal samples and conduct a low-dose CT scan. Brief follow-up visits will update contact information and gather information related to health and exposures. Compensation up to $350 for enrolled volunteers. Contact 802-847-8839 or email cory.raymond@uvmhealth.org for more information.
