- Accounting and culture through historical perspectives
- Accounting and the shift of cultural paradigms
- Arts-inspired research methods: exploring history through arts
- Accounting profession for the arts, culture and heritage sectors
- Accounting standards for heritage assets: past, present and future
- Time perspectives into accounting and culture
- Interdisciplinary perspectives into accounting for arts, heritage and culture

Key deadlines:

- 1 November 2023 Submission opening
- 1 February 2024 Registration opening
- 31 March 2024 Submission deadline
- 31 May 2024 Emerging Scholars' Colloquium submission deadline
- 22 July 2024 Early bird registration ends

An Emerging Scholars' Colloquium will be held immediately prior to the conference.

Inquiries may be directed to the Conference Convenor, Prof. Federico Barnabè, at the following e-mail address: federico.barnabe@unisi.it or to the Accounting History Technical Convenor at siena-ahic@vuw.ac.nz

The University of Siena was founded in 1240 and is one of the oldest universities in Europe. Most premises of the University of Siena are located in the city centre, inside the historic city wall, in the medieval heart of the city of Siena. The historical centre of Siena (which is largely pedestrianised) has been declared by UNESCO as a World Heritage Site. The 12AHIC is hosted by the Department of Business and Law of the University of Siena. It will take place at the School of Economics and Management and at the Rectorate of the University of Siena, both located in the city centre.

Submission and Review of Papers: Papers written in the English language and complying with the Accounting History manuscript style should be submitted online in Word format no later than 31 March 2024 at www.conftool.org/12ahic/. All papers will be subject to a double-blind refereeing process. A special issue of the journal on the conference theme is scheduled to be published following the event.

Notification of Acceptance: Notification of papers accepted for inclusion in the conference program should be made by 10 June 2024.
