

Call for Research Proposals
The 14th Accounting History Symposium
Virtual format: Thursday, 3 December 2020

In an effort to continuously nurture a strong and supportive community among historical accounting scholars, despite these uncertain times, the Accounting History Special Interest Group (AHSIG) is pleased to announce that the 14th Accounting History Symposium will be held on 3 December 2020 (commencing approximately 7 am AEST).

The Symposium will take place in virtual format (details TBA) and is free of charge for all, including AHSIG members and non-members. It is not necessary to submit a research proposal to participate.

In addition to the virtual presentations of research proposals relating to studies of accounting's past, a panel of scholars will be in (virtual) attendance, discussing and/or providing feedback on the presentations of the participants.

We are confident that this additional Symposium for 2020 will attract at least the same level of support as the 13th Accounting History Symposium, held virtually in July, and we look forward to your participation at the next event in the series.

Individuals interested in making a presentation about a planned or existing research project are kindly invited to submit a brief research proposal (of no more than three pages, single-spaced) of their chosen research topic, which contains the following information:

1. Project (working) title
2. Background to the study (or scenario for investigation)
3. Main research objective to be stated in a single, concise sentence
4. Concise statement of key research question(s)
5. Research methodology
6. Period selection
7. Limitations of the study
8. Expected (original) contribution of the study to the literature.

The final date for the submission of research proposals is the close of business on Tuesday, 27 October 2020 (in London) and should be sent to: acchis.sig@gmail.com.

We look forward to welcoming you to the 14th Accounting History Symposium.
