Free Thinking Babble

During this Pandemic like a lot of people I began to feel depressed and frustrated, and my mental health suffered as a result. It was a funny one because I was feeling depressed and anxious as to what direction the world was going in but then I would pick up my phone and see someone or some country who had it way worse than me which as a result can leave one feeling frustrated about feeling frustrated knowing others had it way worse. It is so easy to fall into drinking and eating garbage, especially when there is not much else to do so I knew I had to go back to breathing exercises I do called the WIM HOF METHOD. This is a method that consists of three pillars, Breathing exercises, meditation and cold exposure and I cannot recommend it enough. This method really changed my outlook on life as a whole. You will find instructional videos for beginners of this method on YouTube.

Training Jiu-jitsu and MMA in town was also something I used as a self care tool and the friends I have made through the sport are amazing. Big shout out to Adrian Elbert, he is a very good man in our community and I have seen the changes being in a positive environment like his gym has had on myself, my brother, my girlfriend and friends. I can't wait to get back.

Jack Keeshan

Anyway this was meant to be about music and even though in recent years there has been no venues putting on original acts within the town I think it is important to highlight just how many brilliant musicians and artists our community has, like seriously I am not exaggerating when I state that our town has countless songwriters, poets, artists and bands who are all creating amazing art. There are far too many to name but I posted a picture to my face book where I have a list of Tipperary acts to check out during the lockdowns.

Right now I am working on my very first album with some amazing local people. I had been with a record label prior to this but things didn't work out but sometimes things happen for a reason. A lot of young acts can focus so much on the record deal. I may be back to square one with the album but I am really thankful for the people I have around me at the minute. My younger brother Ciaran is on Bass Guitar and it has been absolutely amazing seeing how quickly he has progressed as a musician in such little time, he blows my mind with how quickly he can pick things up and learn. He is always brutally honest with me and if he thinks something doesn't sound good he will say it.

James McKelvey is one of my best friends and he is recording the backing guitar and vocals for these songs which has been working great. James is a great guy and prior to the pandemic you would hear him busking in town a lot. I hope he releases some of his own music soon because it's great. Lauren Beth is on keyboards and backing vocals and also has some absolutely amazing songs of her own recorded, check her out on Spotify and YouTube. She is great and the topics she writes about are very important. My favourite song of hers is "11 years" which is about issues relating to the environment.

Paul Dwyer is the man who brings it all together and is a great friend to me. I was very nervous recording again and he just has a way of relaxing you. I don't know if he even notices but he has a way of getting the best out of you with the chilled out environment at the studio. I recorded my latest single "Jenny" with Paul and I had James on backing vocals and the whole day was brilliant. I hope with the album I am recording that I can capture a sense of community with these tracks. Hopefully, I get recording again soon, these lockdowns are really taking their toll on everyone, but I am super grateful that through music I still have a sense of community and I hope it comes out on this album.

Lastly, I just want to say thanks to Mike Edwards, Paul Dwyer, Colin Williams, Tom Stapleton, and Roscrea Youth Cafe. When my friends and I were younger we would busk and put on gigs amongst ourselves in town that for a while took off in the youth cafe. It gave a lot of our bands a place to start out and created a mini little music scene in town with other acts coming from the midlands to play in town. The Roscrea Men's Shed also gave me a space to turn into a practice space over their building which was so thoughtful of them. There really are such good-hearted people in our town.

I would love to see Roscrea support original artists again; we have the leap castle and that is an absolutely fantastic venue to play but I feel somewhere in the town would work the best to attract footfall. There is a little while to go before then I suppose.

Anyway thanks for reading and mind yourself pal.

Jack Keeshan.

ROSCREA TIDY TOWNS

THE MONEEN GARDEN

This garden was one of the early projects undertaken by Roscrea Tidy Towns. It was established in 1988 with help from FÁS. The name Moneen comes from the Irish word Móinín – meaning "The Little Turf Stream". The Moneen river flows through the town and indeed has several other names too – The Moneen as it enters the town, The Mall as it flows through it and The Bunnow (Bun Abha - lower river) as it leaves the town on its way to the join the Brosna River.

It was decided to upgrade it as part of our 2019 Tidy Towns National Competition. The work on its upscaling had just begun but was not completed in time for the adjudication of 2019. It was completed in June of 2019. It is now part of our 2021 submission.

Years of overgrown shrubbery and grass were removed. The old kerbing and the gravel path were also removed. A new kerbing was installed and then the hard work of planting took place. New soil, weed block and mulch were added to create a suitable planting area. The large rocks that were part of the original garden were retained in the new one. The old fountain was also retained and plumbed with a stone sump area added. The old gravel and kerbs were not level with the footpath so the elderly found it difficult to walk on. The new paving is at the same level as the footpath.

There's a plaque donated by Oliver Douglas and Sons containing a quote from Stephen Hawking reminding visitors to "Remember to look up at the stars and not down at your feet". A good philosophy to have.

Now, just two years on, it is a completely fresh asset to the town. The addition of seating, paving and a bicycle display/parking opens up the garden to a whole new generation of the public. It offers a little sanctuary right in the middle of the bustling town – a great place to rest before tackling the Convent Hill!

A new plaque commemorating the refurbishment was also erected – leaving the old one still there. The following images will give you some idea as to the changes made. The first two images are views of the garden Before & After – the first taken in May 2019 and the second in June 2021. The other two images are just close-ups of the two beds newly refurbished.

Roscrea Age Friendly News

The last few months have been a challenging but busy time for Age Friendly Roscrea. Many of our services and activities have been drastically curtailed due to Covid and we all missed the face-to-face contact and social gatherings. We are delighted to announce that earlier in the year Age Friendly Roscrea was awarded an Aontas Stars Award for promoting adult learning initiatives that support health and well-being. Thankfully, as the vaccines roll out and life becomes more normal, our organisation can start to resume business! Our Dinner Delivery Service, which started during Covid, continues to run successfully and "dinners & desserts" are delivered Monday, Wednesday and Friday to our participants. Funding for Acorn Digital Devices has continued, and members that have received them are making great progress with their user friendly device. Our Rosie Greys had a very successful St Patrick's Day online Rambling House and are now managing to conduct their weekly sing along sessions through zoom – many using their newly acquired Acorn ipads to participate. We are hoping to create an outdoor space at the back of our Courthouse building to allow our Thursday Club resume its activities as soon as possible, and our Bookclub hopes to kick off again in July. Classes in Arts and Crafts, Storytelling/scribbling and Genealogy are planned to resume in the near future. Our first social outing since Covid took place on June 23rd when members visited the McDonagh Centre, Eco Village and Knockanree Woods in Cloughjordan. Our Befriending phone call service continues and our Senior Alert Scheme is still available. There are many plans in the pipeline – including the release later in the year of Roscrea Digest (volume 2). The future is looking bright! We will keep you posted on all our upcoming events on our Age Friendly facebook page.

Roscrea Historical Route - Seen through the eyes of a 'Tourist'

Fountain, Rosemary Square, Roscrea – A finely executed public fountain, dating from about 1860, resited in 1925, incorporating two original gas lamp standards.

Just last week, I had the opportunity to walk through part of the town and got to stop and look at the fountain in Rosemary Square. When you stop to look at it, it really is a beautiful feature (for me it is usually just one of many Roscrea landmarks). There is a little sign beside it, that tells a little about it being moved from its original location to where it is now, and there appears to be a little historical route mapped out. Just a thought, for the Summer maybe have a walk along this historical route, and visit some of the Roscrea landmarks, encouraging us to engage with the town and sites as a tourist would. We would love to see your photos and stories.

Many of you have seen the posters/quotes around town, we hope that they inspire you to keep positive in these strange times we are experiencing. It is hard on everyone at the minute but especially those who are vulnerable, isolated and already suffer from mental health problems.

If anyone sees any quote that they love, please, feel free to take it home with you.

And remember to always be kind because you never know what silent battles people are going through.

Roscrea Musical Society

Roscrea Musical Society has become somewhat of an institution for the people of Roscrea and surrounding areas. Every year since 1940, we have packed the Abbey Hall with audiences viewing both local and guest performers singing, dancing and acting.

In April 2020, we should have been staging our milestone 80th Production 'Fiddler on the Roof' but as with the majority of events in the past sixteen months, we were left with no option but to postpone. This came as a massive disappointment to both members and audiences alike.

Now that life seems to be returning to some form of normality, the committee are busy behind the scenes with the hope of getting our 80th Show to the Abbey Hall stage in 2022.

The Society has become a terrific social outlet for people of all ages. Great friendships have been formed and those who have 'caught the bug' (excuse the pun) return year after year.

So, if you feel like getting involved with Roscrea Musical Society on or off the stage, we always welcome new faces. Keep an eye on our social media (Facebook and Instagram) for updates.

COMHALTAS

Comhaltas Ceoltoiri Éireann (known as Comhaltas) was founded over 70 years ago in Mullingar in 1951. This was a very special occasion when members of the Piper's Club in Dublin travelled to Mullingar to meet like-minded people who were concerned that traditional music was in decline. This was an aural tradition, handed down from one generation to the next. Over the years, regional styles had developed. In the Sliabh Luachra area of Munster, slides and polkas were commonly played, whereas in Donegal and Sligo, there was more emphasis on reels.

At that time, society had come through the effects of 2 world wars, the war of independence and the civil war. Emigration had been rife and many young people emigrated to England or America in search of employment and the prospect of a better lifestyle. Communities were divided following the effect of the civil war. So the spirit and confidence of the people was at a low ebb. The conclusion of the Mullingar meeting was that it would help stem the decline of or Irish culture if an annual gathering of musicians was organised and so the concept of the Fleadh Cheoil was born. Cumann Ceoltoiri Éireann was born arising from the Mullingar gathering and shortly thereafter the name changed to Comhaltas Ceoltoiri Éireann. (Comhaltas means a group of people).

Aims of Comhaltas

Comhaltas set itself a number of aims

Promote playing of the uilleann pipes

Promote playing of the harp

Promote the use of 'An Ghaeilge'

Over time, the aims were further expanded to promote traditional singing, dancing and more recently storytelling.

Development

The gathering in Mullingar in 1951 could never have imagined how successful the organisation would become. There are now over 400 branches in 18 countries worldwide.

It is a voluntary organisation promoting many aspects of Irish culture. In recent years, technological advances have helped bring traditional music and culture to a worldwide audience. It means a lot to people at home and abroad to maintain 'links' with the home of their ancestors. Above all else, it provides a sense of identity, a sense of who we are.

Branches were organised throughout the country in Ireland.

Roscrea Branch

The decision to establish a branch in Roscrea was taken at a meeting in the Central Hotel in 1961 and the branch was founded shortly afterwards in 1962. The branch has continued an unbroken history to the present day. Anybody is welcome to join and partake in any of the activities. It is not a requirement that a member has to be a musician, singer, dancer or storyteller etc. If you enjoy any or all of these things, you will enjoy being a member of Roscrea Comhaltas. The branch supports the informal use of the Irish language.

Activities.

The branch supports people wishing to compete in competitions, of which there are many (including solo, duet, trio, group/band, solo singing, whistling, lilted, set/ceili dancing and storytelling), and over the years many Fleadh Cheoil na hÉireann accolades have come to Roscrea in music, singing, dancing..

In addition, the branch participated in group activity such as Grúpa Ceoil (ensemble) and Ceili Band competitions as well as variety shows Scoraíocht and Pléaracha, focussed on an Irish setting and built around traditional music, song and dance. Recently, the branch took part in a competition for marching bands and this added to the skill set of the participants. The branch hosted a number of County and Provincial (Munster) Fleadhanna Ceoil and these events were hugely supported by the people and businesses of Roscrea.

Membership of Comhaltas provides a sense of identity, confidence and a sense of fun where everybody benefits. It is a place where young and old can come together to make our tradition a 'living tradition'

In summary all are welcome at Roscrea Comhaltas.

Community Participation and Social Inclusion

Despite the lockdown and restrictions due to the Covid-19 Pandemic community participation is ongoing, from Tidy Towns to online community education opportunities. Recently the Garda facilitated a Zoom online meeting to re-establish and grow the Text Alert system and groups within Tipperary, this was a very worthwhile and informative meeting, the time has now come to develop a new committee for the text alert system for the area of Roscrea, we still have the Facebook page but not everyone can check the page on a regular basis and some are not on Facebook, there is a need for a fully inclusive text alert system in the area and there is a lot of help available, for more information and or to be a part of the development of this service please contact Roscrea Garda Station 0505024230 or Roscrea Community Hub roscreacommunityhub@gmail.com.

Social Inclusion is an important aspect of all community empowerment activities, there are forums and groups which play a strong and vital role in this, Public Participation Networks, Education Training Boards, along with huge variety of voluntary and charity groups, Roscrea has many and they are always happy to see new faces, even now there are opportunities for all and a place for all to feel welcome and valued.

Roscrea Action Partnership, (C.A.P.) is alive and well, this group meet quarterly and includes representatives from various agencies and community groups, if your group would like to have a representative on C.A.P. please contact Roscrea Community Hub.

This Newsletter is one such inclusive social activity, we are looking for people to join a committee to oversee the running and publication of the newsletter, articles and opinions are always welcome, editor.roscrea.news@gmail.com

Roscrea Community Action Partnership

The Roscrea Community Action Partnership (Roscrea CAP) is a networking group with organisations such as Tipperary County Council, North Tipperary Development Company, Tipperary ETB, HSE, An Garda Síochána, Roscrea Chamber of Commerce, Tusla, Age Friendly Roscrea, Mid West Regional Drugs and Alcohol Forum and the community in Roscrea amongst others represented. The first meeting was held in April 2016 after the group was set up as an action under the Roscrea Community Action Plan 2015-2019, with the group overseeing implementation of the plan. Achievements over the years since have been developing a Youth

Counselling Service; funding towards 'A Taste of Roscrea' and the 'Roscrea Halloween Festival'; supporting the 'Roscrea Work it Out' Programme and currently helping to progress family support services and the provision of CCTV in the town.

The Partnership would particularly be interested in further participation from community groups so if you are in a residents association in Roscrea that is not represented we would be interested in hearing from you. You can contact Dan Downey, Tipperary County Council at 0761 06 5000 or email dan.downey@tipperarycoco.ie

Drug Services available to individuals & family members in Roscrea and surrounding area

There are a number of drug & alcohol services available for individuals & family members who may need help with a drug or alcohol issue. Asking for help and seeking support is the wise thing to do, even though it can be hard to make that first contact. The drug & alcohol services have years of experience of working with people with drug / alcohol issues, and sometimes it helps to know that maybe your situation isn't as unique as you thought, or that maybe you aren't as isolated as you feel.

SICAP is working in partnership with specific interest community groups and residents' associations in Roscrea offering support in many different ways eg. accessing various community funding grants, capacity and sustainability building workshops, hosting community events, undertaking community research and working collaboratively with the people of Roscrea building stronger community connections.

We also work closely with individuals, offering a 1-1 service to consider options and possibilities which may improve the quality of their lives, through the provision of lifelong learning and personal development courses, career planning, labour market and enterprise supports.

All of the services we provide are free and available on line and some in person, the courses we offer aim to develop confidence, increase self-esteem, motivation, mental health, wellbeing, reduce social isolation and exclusion and enhance people's skills. Such workshops include English Language support, ceramics, weaving, Steps to Wellbeing, Empowering Womens Group, Positive Psychology, Yoga, Self Care etc. One-to-one career guidance support is offered to individuals entering into the labour market and training in areas such as safe pass, food safety, patient moving & handling, customer service and other craft skills training, enterprise support for start up business in the area is offered in collaboration with, and takes referrals from, local statutory services such as DEASP, Turas Nua and LEO. Supports include one-to-one mentoring and group training. The business mentoring service helps clients tease out the feasibility of their business idea, to compile financial projections and to develop a business plan. Enterprise Support also considers business sustainability issues around displacement and market saturation.

Tipperary County Council Cathaoirleach launches Summer Stars 2021

Cllr Michael Smith, Cathaoirleach of Tipperary County Council, recently launched Summer Stars 2021 at the Library Service. Running from June to August, Summer Stars is a national, free, reading programme for all children. Pick up your Summer Stars bag, with reading card and pencil to get started with, choose from our vast selection of new books, and go on a summer adventure of reading and writing this year.

Cllr Michael Smith says, "The summer months provide an ideal opportunity for children to take time to find books they really enjoy and experience reading as an activity which is fun and entertaining."

Libraries are open and we want to extend a big welcome to children to visit us. There is lots to discover at your local library this summer. Summer Stars is an annual initiative under the Right to Read programme. Visit www.tipperarylibraries.ie for more.
